MR. REED seems to be on top. A republican year, a farmers year, a bad, bad year for democrats.

Congress should pass the bankruptcy and anti lottery bill and tariff that they are prosperous and happy. bill and adjourn.

The republicans have nominated three farmers for congress. It looks as if this might be the farmers year.

A republican victory, a new railroad to the south and a free ferry will come, each in their natural order.

This campaign has not gotten very warm yet. A few bricks will have to be thrown into the opposition to wake

On Friday last the first snow of the season fell in Colorado and Montana, and the cold wave was felt as far south as this point.

THE merchants of Jefferson can do wonders for themselves by inaugurating a free ferry. No investment that they can make will pay as well.

THE candidate is kept busy attending pienies. It is a little hard on him, but he would feel lost without them. One of the time-honored practices of Cole county polities is draft, bill, money, postal note or to have no mercy on the candidates.

As the census returns are east up the deplorable future of the democracy becomes more and more apparany kind containing any advertiseent. Ir the legislation of the country has been antagonistic to the agricultural interest there is but one way to correct the wrong, and that is to senfarmers to the legislature. The republicans of Cole county have said to the farmers of the country, we wii prove our faith and friendship by giving you what you need most, representative farmer candidate for the legislature.

THE FARMERS AND TARIFF.

Secretary Rusk is acting as the republican soothsayer to the farmers, but somehow he can't convince them All his fine-spun theories about the advantage of protection amounts to nothing when confronted with farm mortgages and depressed markets. What the farmers want to know is this:

1. Why is it that the crop of the present year is worth less than the crop of 1858?

2. What advantage does the farmer gain by paying on an average of 47 per cent more for everything he purchases than what it is worth? -Tribune.

We will undertake to answer the above questions.

1. The short crops of 1866 followed by the Crimean war.

2. It is not true that the farmer pays 47 per cent more for everything he purchases than it is worth. On the contrary he buys manufactured goods that he needs, at from 40 to 45 per cent less than he paid for the and the inauguration of the tariff
